

Defy the Aging Process

The Importance of Collagen

Collagen is a protein that makes your skin firm and elastic. The natural aging process can diminish collagen. When the skin has less collagen, it can lose its youthful appearance.

The Use of Radiofrequency Energy

Many people search for an effective and long-lasting way to combat the signs of aging without surgery. By using radiofrequency energy, skin is heated to stimulate and re-build your body's own collagen.

Did you know?

After age 20, collagen production diminishes by 1% a year.

The second layer of your skin, the dermis, loses up to 80% of its thickness during the natural aging process.
